

SAMPLE VERSION

ORDER ONLINE:

<https://www.amazon.com/dp/1736373951/>

NotFox Headline History

Trump in the News, 2017-2023

Joseph D Lyman

Copyright © 2024 Joseph Daniel Lyman

All rights reserved.

No part of this book may be reproduced or transmitted in any manner without written permission from the publisher or author, except in the case of brief quotations embodied in critical articles and reviews.

ISBN: 978-1-7363739-5-8

Typefaces: URW Bookman, by URW Font Foundary, SIL Open Font License v1.1; URW Gothic, by URW Font Foundary, SIL Open Font License v1.1.

Cover: Original artwork by the author, copyright 2024. All other elements are original copyright works of the author.

Headlines: All article titles (headlines) used in the making of this book were collected from U.S. mainstream news sources, and are considered "short phrases," de minimis in nature and outside the scope of U.S. copyright. They have been used in accordance with standard practice and fair use law. The "novel" style portion of this book is presented as a parody and a transformative work of social commentary.

Pinpoint Management, LLC. Fulton, Missouri

I dedicate this book to the notion that our treatment of one another, especially in politics, is a reflection of our internal condition; and to the hope that we can revive principles of love, respect, and unity in our public discourse and collective purpose.

Table of Contents

Introduction.....	6
CHAPTER 1.....	15
The campaign to impeach President Trump has begun
CHAPTER 2.....	27
With Trump White House, Are Ethics Issues Becoming Just Part Of The Scenery?
CHAPTER 3.....	38
Facebook, Twitter: Fake accts pivoted to target Trump after election
CHAPTER 4.....	47
US ambassador quits, says he can't work for Trump
CHAPTER 5.....	58
Trump imposes tariffs on Chinese steel and aluminum
CHAPTER 6.....	68
Macron talks to Trump, says tariffs illegal and a mistake.
CHAPTER 7.....	78
Amid all the headlines, you'd be forgiven if you missed one theme: Trump has kinda done all of those things.
CHAPTER 8.....	89
Montana rally, Trump praises candidate who body-slammed reporter
CHAPTER 9.....	99
Trump doesn't care about governing or even 2020. He just wants to be loved
CHAPTER 10.....	110
Democrats announce sweeping probe into Trump
CHAPTER 11.....	121
Many in media wanted Trump-Russia case to be 'next Watergate': Joe Concha
CHAPTER 12.....	132
Most GOP voters and lawmakers, satisfied with the ideological direction of Trump's presidency, are willing to turn a blind eye to his conduct
CHAPTER 13.....	143
Jimmy Carter says reelection of Trump would be a disaster

CHAPTER 14.....	154
Broadcast news slams Trump with 96 percent negative coverage since impeachment inquiry began, study says
CHAPTER 15.....	167
Senate votes to acquit Trump of impeachment charges
CHAPTER 16.....	179
Trump's name will appear on coronavirus relief checks
CHAPTER 17.....	190
Trump's presidency is in a tailspin. His reelection may survive it
CHAPTER 18.....	202
Trump 'accomplished more in first 100 days' than Biden has in 40 years
CHAPTER 19.....	215
Trump won't concede but says he'll leave White House if Electoral College votes for Biden
CHAPTER 20.....	227
Trump tells protesters to 'go home,' maintaining that the election was 'stolen' amid violence at the Capitol
CHAPTER 21.....	234
Trump departs Washington a pariah as his era in power ends
CHAPTER 22.....	247
Top generals mobilized on fears Trump wanted military post-election coup
CHAPTER 23.....	259
Trump on 2024 presidential run: "We may have to do it again"
CHAPTER 24.....	272
Could Trump ever be jailed?
CHAPTER 25.....	283
Trump gag order in election case is 'unconstitutional': law professor
Afterword.....	287
About the Author.....	289

Introduction

What is Notfox?

The website NotFox.com was launched in 2015 as a tool to track the confluence of news headlines across the major news providers: ABC, CBS, CNN, Fox, NBC, Newsmax (more recently) and NPR. The site quietly and consistently gathers headlines based on keyword overlap, presents them for real-time evaluation to any site visitors, and logs them away for further study and use.

One of the primary features of NotFox.com is the way it sorts and presents the news of the day. Rather than just providing a list of headlines, it looks at subjects (keywords) that are being talked about across multiple outlets, and prioritizes the ones that are getting the most attention, in real time. The result is an instant, overarching view of the ideas that media outlets are promoting. As anyone who has examined the news knows, the industry players always act in tandem, and are entirely centered around agenda setting theory and the cognitive accessibility of their agendas. NotFox.com provides a way to watch that activity unfold.

For the most part, modern news is highly perishable, and the primarily usage of NotFox.com reflects that reality. With the much-hyped, "twenty-four hour news cycle," and the endless advents of ever-more-impressive distribution technologies, most subjects flit in and out of societal consciousness for only moments at a time. If we still had presses, they'd be yet hot while we moved on to the next new and shiny subject. But thanks to the database storage of headlines going back for years, NotFox.com also has the ability to let us peer into the past of the news media—ground that we're really not meant to tread on—through reports on the site itself, and through books like this one.

What are Headline Histories?

Internet news headlines are the most perishable of all public thoughts, even more so than the articles they entitle. By and large, we consume headlines and articles in a moment, and then move on to the next ones that are always overflowing in the queue.

Headline Histories from NotFox.com give us an opportunity to look back. They leverage the vast database of collected headlines, and organize them into a consumable format. They offer headlines as a history in and of themselves, a frozen snapshot in time. Because they are available in print form only, they offer a durable memory that we can learn from and keep.

Why "Trump in the News"?

Then acting White House chief of staff Mick Mulvaney said in an interview with CBS in 2019 that, "Everything [Donald Trump] says is offensive to some people." As a political apparatus, Trump's brand was designed to have this offensive effect, and all those who have and do participate in the marketing of his brand fall victim to that reality at some point. For that reason, putting this particular volume together was a terrifying prospect; I knew going in that there would be no way to please my readers.

My selection of headlines (or my omission), my selection of bold items (or items I didn't bold), my chapter headings, as well as every original word herein, are likely to offend all of my readers at intervals. But being calm and content is not why people read about Donald Trump—and in any case, this volume isn't about him as much as it is about his treatment in the media.

Though I've tried to keep most of my personal opinions out of the front and rear matter of this book, I am conscious of the desire people have to polarize around Trump. I'm also well aware of the triage traps that talking about Trump automatically entails. I can in all honesty say that I view myself as ambivalent on Donald Trump, neither for nor against. But I am very much against manipulative media, and no topic in my lifetime has exposed more manipulation than this one; that has been my motivation in running Notfox, and in producing this book.

Even with the evident risks, I felt that it was important to preserve a record of the news media's treatment of Donald Trump. In my personal opinion, there is no way that an industry as calculating and experienced as the mass media stumbled onto the stage with Trump; they must have been implicit from the start. When their treatment of him is viewed at a distance and with the perspective of hindsight, this becomes evident.

Not only is the preservation of Trump headlines in this book valuable as a piece of history, it has a peculiar value for any who would like to view agenda setting theory, and especially salience models, in wild and ferocious action. Few news subjects reveal media methods the way Trump does.

The Format of This Book

This book was curated, formatted, and assembled by hand, without the use of Artificial Intelligence which is so prevalent today. The Notfox database has millions of headline entries, which could not possibly all fit in a reasonable volume. So, I selected headlines that were applicable, and formatted them as if they were the text of a novel using the statistical analysis language R. Additional modifications, including highlights and dates, were then added.

Some might argue that a list format would have made more sense, lending itself to better sorting and organization. Headlines are, after all, usually presented as a list. However, as a history, it made more sense in my mind to present these headlines in the form of a disjointed story. The novel format gives the headlines an absurd quality when read through, and owing to the fact that they are in chronological order, the continuity and readability are tolerable.

Each chapter represents a span of time, and begins with a related relevant headline as the chapter title. The "paragraphs" are primarily collections of headlines tacked together like an irrational train of thought. Headline dates should be largely accurate, but remember that the dates represent the point at which the article was entered into the NotFox.com database, and not necessarily the publication date.

Even though I've worked on this book by hand, thousands of headlines and tens of thousands of words mean that some mistakes are likely. As I had to process some of the data manually, there will certainly be headlines that contain punctuation problems, and headlines that contain grammatical errors (including some that were put there by their original creators). Also, news outlets adopt varying capitalization rules, which have mostly been preserved. It is assumed that the reader will treat this collection of headlines with about as much dignity that they treat headlines in general, and take the errors lightly.

A Note on Biases

You can't gather news headlines without gathering associated biases. Various news outlets have claimed, over the years, to have some level of integrity and objectivity, but readers have either doubted these claims (in the case of news they don't agree with) or argued their merits (in the case of news they do agree with).

The subject matter of Donald Trump's presidency adds additional complexity when it comes to the issue of biases, because his entire brand is conflict. On his own he is polarizing enough, but the fuel that media outlets have intentionally thrown on that obtrusive facet of his personality has been breathtaking. There is no doubt in my mind that the modern media has altogether abandoned the idea of being objective, fair, or even remotely honest.

And so, I don't pretend to present a book without biases: in fact, I openly acknowledge that this book is chock-full of them. That said, the biases you'll find in this book are largely imported with the headlines themselves. My curation and introductory materials may well have introduced additional biases, because I am human, but I have attempted to present a large collection of information that represents the history of the news, and not my own views.

A Note on Copyrights

I was, at first, hesitant to approach the idea of publishing an entire book based on headlines that were written by thousands of journalists. There was, in point of fact, no reasonable way for me to obtain permission to create such a beast, nor any way for me to credit them individually. The idea gnawed at me enough, and I ended by researching the copyright question as deeply as I could. My findings have led me to believe that U.S. copyright law, to the best of my understanding, does not require me to obtain said permission. My position rests on three points: De minimis authorship and creativity in the selected headlines; effect of the use upon the potential market; and, whether or not the created product is transformative in nature.

The U.S. Copyright Office Circular 33, Works Not Protected by Copyright (March 2021), covers these issues in part. But the topic is covered even more extensively and specifically in the publication titled Copyright Protections for Press Publishers, A Report of the Register of Copyrights (June 2022); and even further in the publication titled Written Additional Comments in Response to U. S. Copyright Office's Publishers' Protection Study: Request for Additional Comments, 86 Fed. Reg. 62,215 (Nov. 9, 2021).

In the latter two above publications, the U.S. Copyright Office was specifically considering whether news publishers needed additional copyright protections against news aggregator websites (such as NotFox.com). Ultimately, the Copyright Office ruled that no additional protections were needed. In the course of that ruling and its associated research, they covered the question of headlines and "short phrases" quite extensively.

Jane C. Ginsburg seems to have led the legal investigation on the protectability of "short phrases" and headlines. Ultimately, the Copyright Office noted that in some cases headlines may be eligible for copyright protections. They noted that there were, "three arguments as to why some headlines and ledes should be protectable: first, that courts applying the short phrases doctrine have focused on originality or functionality rather than brevity as such, leaving open the possibility that a sufficiently original short phrase might be copyrightable; second, that the examples given by the Compendium of non-protectable words and short phrases—names of individuals or organizations, titles, catchwords, or slogans—tend either to lack all originality or be 'considerably more brief than most headlines or ledes'; and third, that a rule based solely on brevity, without any guide as to how short is too short, could be difficult to implement."

This speaks to the de minimis argument, primarily, and establishes that shortness alone cannot stand as a reason to deny protection. In other words, headlines aren't free to be copied without permission solely on the basis of their brevity—they must also lack creativity or originality. To answer this concern, my solution has been to individually curate headlines and filter out any that appear to have a scintilla of creativity and originality. Authors of headlines may or may not agree with my determinations and may certainly object to my judgment, but I have made a good faith effort to include only headlines that are primarily factual, short phrases that are in fact not protectable.

As for the effect of my use on the potential market of news publishers, I can only suppose that curating and reshaping old headlines (old being a relative idea, but strongly on my side of the argument as the word relates to news in particular) would have no impact whatsoever on the news industry, as I am presenting nothing new. I'm not aware of anyone having done what I am attempting in this book, and so I have no metrics to measure against. Even so, I am confident that I am not competing with any news publisher or journalist whatsoever. In fact, as with NotFox.com, these headlines may very well serve as an invitation for readers to utilize online search tools to look up the articles that they refer to, driving business toward news publishers. Therefore, I feel that this second point is addressed.

To the last point—whether this work is transformative in nature—I simply assert that creating a novel out of headlines is absolutely transformative in every sense. I have taken headlines, which have real value only in the very short-term, and turned them into a sort of durable and fascinating history. This provides the public with a benefit that didn't exist when the headlines were created, and salvages those same headlines from almost certain extinction in the public eye, preserving what would otherwise become largely lost to view.

Though I am nothing akin to a lawyer, it is my opinion that I have satisfied the legal tests that might have stood in the way of the publication of a work based on headlines, and have made a good faith effort to avoid infringing on the rights of other authors or publishers.

As for the copyrights that I myself claim, they of course exclude the non-copyrightable headlines themselves, and rest solely on my particular organization and presentation of the same.

Credit

NotFox.com, which was the source for this book, tracks keyword confluence in headlines from the following news outlets:

- ◆ ABC (abcnews.go.com)
- ◆ CBS (cbsnews.com)
- ◆ CNN (cnn.com)
- ◆ Fox News (foxnews.com)
- ◆ NBC (nbcnews.com)
- ◆ Newsmax (newsmax.com)
- ◆ NPR (npr.org)

Without these news outlets, the NotFox.com project would be impossible, and this book would be impossible. Without the contributions of countless journalists, none of this would be possible. Just as the NotFox.com aggregator cannot credit each individual author due to technical limitations, I cannot credit every author of the headlines that this book is built on. Their contributions are nevertheless appreciated and meaningful.

Salience and Agenda Setting Language

Anyone who sets out to truly understand the news media eventually finds the topic of Agenda Setting Theory. The ideas in that theory have been methodically researched since the 1970's under that moniker, but the driving concepts go back much further.

If the term is new, or you are completely unfamiliar with the field, any academic research portal will provide you with endless reading on the subject. Within the broader subject is the concept of salience—the neurological fact that issues which are presented with greater frequency are perceived as more important.

An Example: "Insurrection"

A suitable example of Agenda Setting and Salience is to be found in the events which took place at the Capital on January 6th, 2021. These events were reported primarily as a "riot" at first, after very early attempts to frame those events as an "insurrection" fell flat. Later experiments at the term "attempted coup" and "siege" also failed. Whether insurrection was truly accepted in the public eye or not, the media eventually settled on its use, roughly a year after the events—enough time for most people to allow their notions to be shaped more by messaging than memory. Agenda Setting language frequently goes through iterations, depending on how the language and message are received; this event and its language are interesting examples of that process.

As you read through the headlines in this book, pay attention to ideas and language that are repeated. Some rhetorical language to watch for includes words such as: Baseless, collusion, conspiracy theory, deniers, downplays, unprecedented, troubling, embarrassment, urgent threat, worst, truth, lie, striking contrast, failing, attacks, slams, furious, racist, boasting, and unprecedented. Keep in mind that whether or not such language is warranted is rarely addressed with any degree of completeness in a news article; yet, such language is commonplace and purposeful.

CHAPTER 1

The campaign to impeach President Trump has begun

January 1st, 2017 – August 12th, 2017

Unlike the rest of the chapters in this book, I chose to begin this one with a notice. Some readers have a tendency to bypass the introductory material of an average book, and dive right in at Chapter One. While this is not normally a grave concern, in the case of this book I fear such an action would lead to abject befuddlement, confusion, frustration, or even irritation. This is not a book in which you can skip the introduction, as it is not an average book.

If you haven't read the introduction, I encourage you to do so. If you're unwilling, I'll give you the summary: This book is a curated collection of headlines from the period of 2017 to 2023, related to Donald Trump. It is formatted to read like a novel, but the words are in fact actual headlines that passed through the website NotFox.com over the course of that period. It will not read like a regular novel, it will read like headlines broken into paragraphs and chapters. It is bizarre by design. Enjoy!

Trump Electoral college win certified despite Democratic objections [1/6/2017]. More Than 200 Arrested in D.C. Protests on Inauguration Day. Trump attacks media in lengthy, combative press conference. Trump gives America's 'poorest white town' hope. Manhattan DA's Stormy Daniels hush money case against Donald Trump. At 100 days, Trump approval rating shows no sign of growth. Protests take center stage during Trump's first 100 days in office. Trump Revealed Highly Classified Intelligence to Russia, in Break With Ally, Officials Say. Trump fires FBI director James Comey. Trump's first budget: Trillions in cuts.

Trump sparked a CEO revolt. Here's why. NOTHING TO HIDE? Report: Trump unlikely to hinder Comey testimony. Trump "believes the climate is changing," Nikki Haley says. MAKING HIS CASE: Trump touts travel ban in midst of London attacks. NATO chief Stoltenberg on impact of Trump pressure: "Actions speak louder than words". Trump on deadly London terror attack: "This bloodshed must end". Trump: I will do what is needed to prevent threat spreading to US. Trump tweets what DOJ should do to defend "travel ban". Trump lashes out again at London mayor.

Trump Calls Democrats 'Obstructionists,' But He's Only Nominated 11 Ambassadors. Trump 'will not exert executive privilege' for Comey testimony. Cillizza: Trump's poll numbers are in a very, very bad place. REALITY EXPOSED: Alleged NSA leaker an anti-Trump, workout buff. Trump Administration Warns That U.S. May Pull Out Of U.N. Human Rights Council. Will James Comey allege Trump tried to obstruct justice? Spicer contradicts peers on Trump tweets. Trump's Twitter Account Should Not Block Users, Lawyers Argue. Trump to nominate Christopher Wray as new FBI director.

Cillizza: The one sin Trump can't forgive. Two top officials respond to key question by saying they didn't feel pressured by Trump or his team. Fired FBI chief says Trump asked him to let go of probe into Flynn's ties to Russia [5/16/2017]. Comey details 'inappropriate' and 'very concerning' meetings with Trump. Comey's bombshell: Trump said, 'I hope you can let this go'. 'Concerning': Comey was troubled by talks with Trump, but was there obstruction? What Americans think of Comey, Trump, Russia. Schiff: Comey's testimony on Trump "certainly evidence" of obstruction. White House is trying to keep Trump off Twitter today. Comey on Solo Trump Meeting: 'Lordy, I Hope There Are Tapes'.

Ryan defends Trump: He's new at this. Trump's Lawyer Takes on Comey, Fields No Questions. Comey testifies that Trump's tweets about possible tapes led him to pass his notes to the media. President Trump hasn't tweeted in a very long time. North Korea slams Trump for pulling out of Paris Climate Agreement. Here's Where Comey's Testimony Contradicts Trump. Trump pledges to make US infrastructure 'envy of the world' [6/9/2017].

In An Afternoon, Trump And Tillerson Appear To Contradict Each Other On Qatar. Why Trump's Attempt to Go After Comey Could Backfire. Is Trump Guilty Of Obstruction Of Justice? Comey Laid Out The Case. ROLLING BACK ON CUBA: President Trump to unveil new policy on Communist nation in Miami. Trump vs. Obama: A rocky relationship. Donald Trump Jr. appears to contradict father's account of private Comey meeting. Trump lawyer doesn't rule out firing special counsel Robert Mueller.

Report: Trump sets date for Priebus to get WH in order. School erases Trump slogans from yearbook. Melania Trump moves in. 9th Circuit Appeals Court largely upholds block on Trump's revised travel ban. DC, Maryland sue Trump over alleged foreign payments in move Spicer suggests is 'partisan politics'.

Trump's Revised Travel Ban Blocked Again by Appeals Court. Trump Weighs Firing Mueller, According To Confidante. Trump: Lynch action on Clinton inquiry 'totally illegal'. Senators Aim To Make It Harder For Trump Administration To Ease Russia Sanctions. Smirnoff Vodka ad hits on recent Trump, Russia controversies. Opinion: GOP sought truth, Dems sought to hit Trump. Trump Monitoring Shooting, Calls Scalise a 'Patriot'.

Man who opened fire at Congressional baseball practice was strongly anti-Trump and pro-Sanders, his writings show [6/14/17]. Senate OKs Russia sanctions that would be tough for Trump to lift. The DC tourism stop for Trump haters and lovers alike: Trump International Hotel. Cillizza: Trump's Russia troubles get much more serious as report says he's personally under investigation [6/15/17].

Obstruction of Justice: What It Is and Why Trump Should Care. CLAMPDOWN ON CUBA: Trump's policy would restrict business, tourism. Many Cuban exiles embrace Trump policy but want more. Trump earned more at Mar-a-Lago, from 'Art of the Deal,' financial disclosure form shows. Trump to visit Camp David for first time this weekend. City to President Trump: Help!

Trump's Energy Department seeks to mine elements monopolized by China. Putin sees chance under Trump to 'crack the NATO alliance': former US envoy [6/18/17]. Rubio: Trump will not fire Mueller, Rosenstein. Opinion: Kim considered Trump when releasing Warmbier. 'IT'S A BRUTAL REGIME' Trump slams North Korea after Otto Warmbier dies. 'Bigger Than The 6th': Voters Head To Polls In Georgia Race That Hinges On Trump. Trump voters weigh in as approval rating dips. Georgia's Handel keeps House seat in Republican hands. Dems fail to get first big win in Trump era.. Jurors in Bergdahl case will be quizzed about Trump. Trump basks in GOP special election wins at Iowa rally. Trump mocks Dems against his health care plan. Trump Appointee Is Still a Saudi Government Lobbyist. Democrat: Pelosi is worse than Trump. Advisers Don't Want Trump Talking About Russia. But He Is. SHALLOW DEPP: Actor jokes about assassinating Trump [6/23/17]. Opinion: Trump has us through the looking glass.

Trump signs VA reform bill, following through on campaign promise. Trump White House Has Taken Little Action To Stop Next Election Hack [6/23/17]. Trump supporter who called for Clinton to be 'shot' attends bill signing. 'IRON IS STILL HOT' Trump considering Camp David-style summit taking on Islamic extremism. Trump Acknowledges Russian 'Meddling' in Tweet Criticizing Obama. Trump: 'I think we are going to get there' on health care. Opinion: Trump gave away his most consequential decision. Eric Shawn Reports: Terror victim's son pleads with Trump - Get the fugitives back from Cuba! Supreme Court Revives Parts Of Trump's Travel Ban As It Agrees To Hear Case.

Trump gets partial win on travel ban. WATCH: Timeline of Trump's travel ban. Obama's legacy is Trump's to-undo list. Sen. Collins: Trump hasn't learned how to work with Congress. Trump Wings It On Foreign Policy, U.S. Officials Scramble to Catch Up. TRUMP, TIMES TANGLE: President, reporter in Twitter fight over health law. Officials finalizing details of Trump's revived travel ban. Poll: US image suffers under Trump [6/28/17]. Trump travel ban: US issues new visa criteria for 6 Muslim nations. Trump's upcoming Paris visit marks shrewd calculation. Trump ridicules female TV host's looks, calls her 'crazy'. Melania Trump stands by husband's tweets. The crude, sexist tweets Trump wrote about 'Morning Joe' co-host. Who's banned from entering the U.S. when Trump travel ban goes into effect?

Trump's comments on women under scrutiny for second time this week. Lemon: Trump is an embarrassment to America [6/29/17]. 'Morning Joe' hosts respond to Trump's attacks. How Trump is tarnishing his presidency, one tweet at a time. Trump: Patience with North Korea is over. Backlash at Trump Commission Request for 'Confidential' Voter Data. Defiant Trump tweets new attacks 'Morning Joe' hosts.

McConnell rejects Trump's advice to repeal ObamaCare now, replace later [7/1/17]. 'A LAND RICH WITH HEROES' Trump honors vets, faith community at 'Celebrate Freedom' rally. Study: No One Issue Clearly Unites 5 Groups Of Trump Voters. Health Secretary on Trump Tweets: He Can 'Do More Than One Thing at a Time'. 'MEDIA BUZZ' Trump ally blasts DC over 'Scandal, Inc.' culture. Marches across U.S. call for Trump's impeachment [7/2/17]. China's Xi warns Trump of 'negative factors' hurting US ties.

Stephen Hawking: Trump Pushing Earth's Climate 'Over The Brink' [7/3/17]. ANALYSIS: Trump displays signature move in media smackdown. Trump enters Charlie Gard debate: 'We would be delighted' to help - OPINION: Trump's tweets boost his foes. Trump, Putin to hold bilateral meeting. DEPORTATIONS DENIED? Court crunch threatens to stall Trump campaign vow. Putin, Trump to hold first official meeting Friday. FIRST IMPRESSIONS Trump faces delicate diplomatic test in first meeting with Vladimir Putin. Trump's Surgeon General Pick Built Reputation Fighting HIV And Opioids In Indiana. Melania Trump forging new relationships on Europe trip. Opinion: Trump will feel at home in Eastern Europe. The Note: Trump vs. Trump as foreign trip gets busy start. Trump vows "triumph" of Western civilization, rips Russia for backing "hostile regimes" [7/6/17]. Donald Trump in Poland Takes on North Korea, Russia. MESSAGE TO MOSCOW: Trump raps Russia ahead of Putin meeting - but not enough for Dems.

See what Shaub said about Trump. Five things to watch for during Trump's meeting with Putin today at the G20 summit. The Note: Which Trump will come to the table today with Putin. Melania Trump Trapped in Hotel Amid Protests. Trump, Putin conclude 2-hour-plus meeting. MEDIA BIAS: Trump's defense of the West dubbed racist [7/7/17]. Trump, Putin meeting went from discourse to discord.

Gergen: Trump not a world leader at G20. Putin: TV Trump is 'Very Different' From Real Trump [7/8/17]. Report: Trump son, son-in-law met with Kremlin-linked lawyer. Schiff blasts Trump's Russia negotiations. Schiff: How can we really believe Trump pressed Putin? Trump is back from a trip that highlighted his isolation abroad to confront intensified political storms in DC. Conway defends Trump Jr. meeting with Russian.

States Push New Voter Requirements, Fueled by Trump [7/10/17]. HERE COMES THE SON: Donald Trump Jr. channels dad with tweet at NY Times. White House: Trump didn't know about his son's meeting with Russian lawyer. In Probe of Trump Campaign's Russia Ties, Is Collusion Even a Crime? [7/10/17] Report: Trump Jr. was told via email that Russia had info on Clinton. NYT: Email to Trump Jr. cited Russia's role. GREGG JARRETT Donald Trump Jr. Russia meeting broke no laws. The players behind the Trump Jr. meeting. 'HANNITY' EXCLUSIVE: Trump Jr. says 'in retrospect I probably would have done things a little differently'. Trump Jr.'s emails spark concerns over his meeting with a Russian lawyer. CNN talks to Russian lawyer who met with Trump Jr.

Trump to postpone London visit until 2018. Letterman wants to put Trump in a home [7/12/17]. 'Paralyzed' by chaos at home, Trump sets off for Paris. Trump's FBI pick: I sure as heck didn't offer loyalty pledge. GOP lawmakers lament how Donald Trump Jr.'s emails are interfering with their agenda. This is almost certain to become Trump's third visit to Europe dominated by questions about Putin.

BRUSHING OFF CRITICISM: Trump: Son's meeting with Russian lawyer was routine. Why Macron (really) invited Trump to Paris. Trump defends son's meeting with Russian lawyer. Trump Tells French First Lady She's 'In Such Good Shape'. FIGHTING WORDS Trump lawyer reportedly sends threatening emails. ALOHA, GRANDPA: Hawaii judge revises Trump travel ban, expands exemptions. Macron's Strategy For Trump In Paris: Long Handshakes And Military Spectacles. Russian-American lobbyist claims he was also in Trump Jr. meeting. ABOVE THE FRAY? Pence backs Trump, steers clear of Russia probes.

Photo shows Trump bow in prayer in Oval Office [7/14/17]. Some have characterized the lawyer who met with Trump Jr. as a leftist with ties to Obama administration. Trump Taps Washington Lawyer To Become White House Special Counsel Amid Russia Probes. If Prosecutors Investigate Trump Tower Meeting, Here's How They Might Tackle It. Macron: My Charm Offensive May Soften Trump's Climate Stance. The Southern Baptist who opposed Trump. The delay keeps DC at a standstill because health care is the only part of Trump's agenda with momentum. Trump is 'Tearing Down America's Standing,' Gore Says. Trump Administration Allows 15,000 Temporary Worker Visas. Trump-branded items absent from 'Made in America week' event.

The cast of characters in Trump Jr. meeting. Cillizza: 'Modern Day Presidential' isn't working for Trump. Trump Blames Democrats, 'Few' Republicans for Health Care Bill Failure. Cillizza: Trump's entire presidency is teetering. Lawyer: Russian developer's staffer also at Trump Tower meeting. Trump and Putin spoke a second time for nearly an hour at G20 summit, White House says. House to vote on Trump's $1.6B border wall request next week [7/19/17]. Trump's Big Repealing Deal: 8 Thoughts On The Senate's Health Care Meltdown Moment. Trump tweets health bill 'will get even better' at lunch.

'FULL TRUTH' WILL BE 'EXPOSED' Trump warns states refusing to comply with voter fraud commission. Trump Raises Vote Fraud but Drops Past Claim of Millions. Kushner, Trump Jr. and Manafort scheduled to testify. Trump to NYT: Comey used dossier for leverage.

Fact Check: Trump's Confusing Remarks To Senate Republicans On Health Care. Trump has second thoughts about Sessions. Sessions' first comments since Trump's public rebuke. 'KREMLIN TACTICS' Obama-era 'leak' supporter lobs shots at Trump. WaPo & NYT: Trump legal team trying to undercut Mueller. In 'Made in America' week, Trump club seeks more foreign workers [7/21/17]. Trump to name financier as communications director.

Poll reveals Americans' views of Trump Jr.'s Russia meeting. Former Trump adviser Flynn consulting again, says brother. Senate Panel In Talks With Trump Jr., Manafort Over Closed-Door Testimony. TOUGH TALK ON TEHRAN: Trump urges Iran to release American detainees. Trump speaks at commissioning of new aircraft carrier. Kin of slain NJ girl appeal to Trump for visa help to attend funeral. Scaramucci Says Trump 'Is Thinking About Pardoning Nobody'. Ex-Russian envoy claims Sessions discussed Trump campaign issues with him. Commentary: When Trump fires Mueller.

Trump son-in-law says he has "nothing to hide". Trump calls Sessions 'beleaguered'. Trump criticizes Senate Republicans for not doing 'their job' in Obamacare fight.

What we know so far about Trump-world and Russia. Did Trump Just Declassify A Secret CIA Program With a Tweet? 'TIME WILL TELL': Trump leaves door open on AG Sessions' fate. Trump speaks at rally in Ohio as turmoil swirls. 'I can be more presidential than any president that's ever held this office,' except Lincoln [7/25/17], Trump says. Trump makes 'presidential' pitch at Ohio rally. Trump: No transgender people will serve in U.S. military. Trump continues Obama order protecting LGBTQ federal workers [7/26/17].

Republican Senators Steamed Over Trump Attacks Back Sessions. Trump announces Foxconn $10B investment in US. Clinton reportedly to focus book on Russia, Comey blame - Trump's not alone: Congress digging into DNC-Ukraine connection. Trump's Ban on Transgender Service Members Hailed by Family Research Council. Two top Trump aides have a fraught relationship. In call to CNN, Scaramucci all but blames Priebus for leaks. Trump's top Middle East adviser removed from position. Trump thanks baseball-shooting first responders.

Boy Scouts chief apologizes for Trump's politically charged speech.

Here's who Trump's advisers are eyeing as possible Priebus replacements. Jeff Sessions says of Trump's criticism that "it's kind of hurtful". Trump heads to New York towns hit hard by gang violence. Opinion: A complete failure of Trump's leadership. SIGHTS ON SID Blumenthal back under scrutiny amid Trump probe. Conservatives hold out hope on ObamaCare repeal as GOP leaders move to tax reform - GOP rep says Trump shares blame for ObamaCare repeal failure - Why both parties embraced phony 'repeal' label. Opinion: Health care defeat confirms Trump has lost Round One.

Don't Look Away: Stuff Happens Fast In Trump's First Summer In Washington. Sen. McCain's thumbs down vote on Obamacare repeal and replace caps a testy relationship with Trump. Scaramucci Rising: Anti-Leak Crusader Cozies Up to Trump. Could Trump Pardon Himself? Probably Not [7/29/17]. Conway still mum on who reports directly to Trump, after Kelly's arrival - Kelly bringing DHS deputy to the White House - OPINION: Trump's troubles are far from over with Kelly as new chief of staff - VIDEO: Who is Trump's new chief of staff? Trump faces several lingering personnel challenges and mounting frustration from GOP congressional leaders. Why Trump probably can't replace Sessions. Trump on N. Korea: 'We handle everything'. President Trump Swears In New Chief Of Staff. CNN's Fareed Zakaria: Trump won because of rebellion from 'the white working man' [7/31/17]. Analysts: Trump's difficulties are seen by foreign leaders as weakness.

Can He Do That? Trump's Triple Threat on Health Care. Flake Takes on Trump, Warns GOP Is 'in Spasms of Dying'. Trump 'Weighed In' on Son's Misleading Statement About Russia Meeting. White House says Trump 'weighed in' on son's misleading claim. HFR: Trump Signs Russia Sanctions Into Law, Amid Putin Retaliation. Trump Unveils Legislation Limiting

Legal Immigration. Trump wants to curb number of legal immigrants. Trump's pick for USDA chief scientist called progressives 'race traders'.

Trump backs curb on legal immigrants. Trump Puts His Signature And His View On Sanctions Law, Following Presidential Trend. Transcripts obtained by Wash. Post reveal details of Trump's calls with leaders of Mexico and Australia. Stop saying you won't pay for wall, Trump told Peña Nieto. Here's what's at stake if Trump tries to fire Mueller.

RALLYING CRY Trump: We won election because of you, not Russia. KICKED TO THE CURB: Trump Tower evicts Secret Service over rental dispute. MEDIA BUZZ: Grand jury bombshell rocks media, but calm down: This is what prosecutors do - Trump transcript leak likely a federal crime, former prosecutors say - Report: Mueller impanels grand jury in Russia probe. How Trump compares with Obama on jobs. Cillizza: Trump taking 17-day vacation. 'DISGRACEFUL AND OFFENSIVE' Pence blasts NY Times for claim he's working to defeat Trump in 2020.

Chicago mayor plans federal lawsuit against Trump administration. Trump, Blumenthal exchange jabs on Twitter. Does Trump deserve credit for economic boom? [8/7/17] BACK ON TRACK: WH officials want Trump to refocus on key issues. BELLWETHER Pope attacks conservative Catholics - and Trump? Trump claims win on N. Korea, but sees no easing of crisis. Democrats blast Trump's "fire and fury" warning to North Korea.

Threat to strike Guam comes after Trump warns North Korea it will face 'fire and fury'. Trump warns N. Korea would be "met with fire and fury". EXCLUSIVE: UN launches blitz reform campaign as 'essential' protection against Trump administration. FBI searched home of former Trump campaign chairman. MAD DOG UNLEASHED: General Mattis follows

Trump warning with North Korea threat. Trump's Childhood Home Fit For Queens Now Available For $725 A Night.

Trump's 'fire and fury' remark was improvised, officials say.
North Korea: Trump is "bereft of reason" [8/10/17]. Trump's Spat With Mitch McConnell Widens GOP Divisions. Trump: McConnell should've gotten health care passed. 200 days in: Obama is still on Trump's mind. Trump thanks Putin for removing US diplomats.

Fact Check: Experts Call Trump's Tax Claim False. Trump: U.S. Military 'Locked and Loaded' for North Korea. Trump administration cuts short funding for teen pregnancy prevention. "I think you know the answer to that," Trump says on N. Korean war. Trump puts new pressure on China as saber rattling over North Korea heats up.

China's president urges calm over North Korea in call with Trump.

SAMPLE VERSION

ORDER ONLINE:

<https://www.amazon.com/dp/1736373951/>